

A Message From Miss Reed and Mr Lillo

Dear Parents and Carers,

We've managed to reach the end of another packed half term at Ryelands and I am sure we are all looking forward to the break next week. This week has been Children's Mental Health Week and a range of activities were planned to encourage the children to reflect on their feelings, developing strategies to help recognise and manage them. We hope that the children have enjoyed these activities and that they have spoken to you about them.

Next week, during half term, it is 'Random Acts of Kindness Week. This was set up in 1995 as a way to celebrate the small things we can do that really make a difference. We would love for you to encourage your children to take part in the five-day kindness challenge, organised by the charity 52 Lives, to celebrate Random Acts of Kindness week. Each day, they will be tasked with doing a specific kind activity and writing about how they felt when they did it. The aim of this is not only to help others but to help themselves too as when we are kind, it improves our own physical and mental health. Please visit the 52 Lives website to find out more details about this challenge:

<https://schoolofkindness.org/kindnesschallenge>

We hope that you all have a wonderful half term, and we thank you for your continued support.

Kate, Glenn and the Ryelands Team

The academy MPs have decided to hold a raffle to raise money for Comic Relief on Friday 17th March. Eagle and Hawk have decided they would like to create rainbow themed hampers (1 per class). If possible, please could you donate an item, of any colour, to go into the hamper by Wednesday 15th March. This can include food items, drinks, toiletries, small games and even socks. All donations will be gratefully received.

World Book Day

Due to strike action falling on the same day as World Book Day, we will celebrate our love for books and our love of books and our favourite authors on Friday 3rd March 2023. This year there is no particular theme, children are encouraged to simply express their love for reading. Costumes can be book characters, authors or books themselves, creativity is most welcomed - Miss Bakosi

This Week's Adventures

Nursery: The nursery theme this week has been Love and Respect, and what that means to each of us. We talked about the people we love and those who love us, and what it means to show respect for other people's point of view, opinions, decisions, feelings etc. We thought about how lovely it is to have a loving family and how special that makes us feel. We decided that we also love our friends, and we came up with lovely ways to say 'I love you' by writing a card, a letter, or by drawing a picture or making something for someone special. We thought about the symbols we use that represent love such as heart hands, blowing kisses, touching our heart, deaf signing for 'I love you' and X's for kisses. Instead of making a Valentine's card we made and decorated hanging Valentine's hearts and wrote on the back to give to our grown ups on Valentine's Day. We also made delicious heart shaped biscuits with pink icing on!

Reception: This week's topic was Outer Space and the children learnt about the solar system, stars and constellations. They watched the launching of a rocket and the work at a space station. On Monday, the children "travelled" to space in a spaceship. They discussed what they would take with them and what they would miss leaving planet Earth. On Tuesday, we were visited by a special friend from a different planet and the children had lots of interesting questions for him. Later in the week, we went on a trip to Ashburton Library where they enjoyed listening to stories related to our topic.

Year 1: This week in English we have written our own stories based on "The Queen's Hat". We have had versions such as The Queen's Crown, The Queen's Handbag and even The King's Underpants! In Maths, we are learning about the place value of numbers to 50. We have learnt about tens and ones, one more and one less and will be moving onto comparing numbers to 50. In art, we really enjoyed creating our own collages with all the wonderful things that you all donated. In Science, we learnt about the jobs that people have relating to space. We focused on astronauts and what their jobs entail. We would like to say how wonderful you all looked dressed up as kings and queens on Thursday and how lovely it was to see you all "Dressed to Express" on Friday. Well done to Starling for their wonderful class assembly.

Year 2: In Year 2, we have been learning all about the amazing Mary Seacole, the children conducted their own research using their iPads and have written a biography about her. Ask them what they can tell you about this important figure in history. In maths, we have been embedding our knowledge of 2, 5 and 10 times tables by solving division problems. In science, we have continued to learn about how materials can change by learning about how paper is made. We are coming to the end of our topic on the Victorians but are very excited for our trip to the Ragged School Museum, don't forget to get a costume ready for Wednesday the 22nd of February- please refer back to the letter if you need any help with ideas. Well done to the children for another fantastic half term.

Year 3: This week our children have been writing their persuasive adverts on a magic show, they have done a fantastic job in capturing the excitement and drama to hook their readers and draw in the customers. In Maths, Year 3 have started the topic, Statistics, they have enjoyed learning about tally charts and pictograms and how to interpret information to answer questions. In Design and Technology Year 3 have loved making their very own photo frames, including measuring, sawing, and using glue guns. We cannot wait to see the finished product; we plan to paint the frames so that they are ready to use and display.

Year 4: This week, Year 4 have explored the structure of a diary entry and are in the process of writing their own from the perspective of Edward Tulane as he is cast overboard the ship. In Maths, the children are continuing to develop their understanding of fractions looking at equivalence using bar models and number lines. In History, we have looked at how the Romans changed Britain (for the better!) and how the Roman Empire eventually fell. For Children's Mental Health Week, we have practised our mindfulness skills to help us focus on our learning and to ensure our sense of positive wellbeing. We enjoyed the last of our cricket lessons by playing an extended match - some children were talent-spotted and asked to go to further sessions outside of school. Well done to them. We have also explored ways to keep ourselves safe on the internet. In RE, we looked at how Hindus express their faith through the art of dance, and we had our usual Chess session on Friday afternoon. Thank you to parents and carers for making the time to discuss your child's progress at our meetings. Enjoy the half term break!

Year 5: This week, Year 5 have been very busy. We have been learning about the Normans in history and have used this to write our own independent writes as a non-chronological report. We have continued to develop our understanding of adding and subtracting fractions. We have also really enjoyed creating our clay Viking masks.

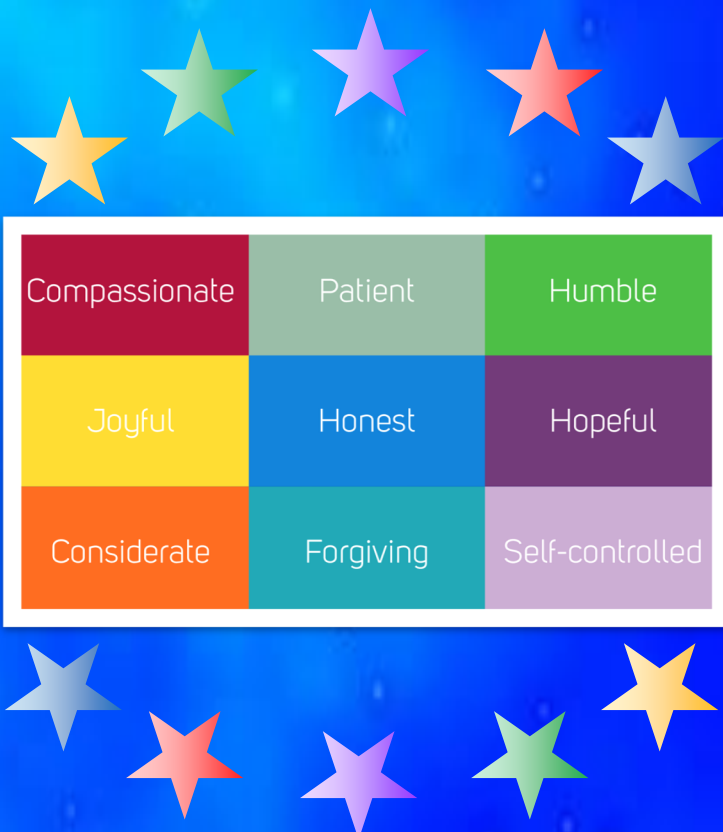

Year 6: Year 6 read a speech made by Winston Churchill on the 4th of June 1940 where he boosted the morale of the country. We talked about propaganda both in Britain and in Germany and why it was so powerful during the war. We then wrote our own versions of his speech trying to include key facts and bias, formal language. In maths, we learnt about solving problems involving fractions and started learning how to multiply fractions. In history, we learnt about Anne Frank and her life during the Holocaust. We also learnt about life in Britain for children who were evacuated. In art, we used cardboard to create 3D collages. We started by layering card to make stars and then moved on to creating a layered picture with a painting underneath the collage. Well done for working so hard.
