- We hope you all a wonderful Christmas break, Happy New year to you all!
- Please can you bring in some small boxes for junk modelling next week
- We are now collecting this term's £15 contribution towards resources and experiences, as well as purchasing the usual resources we are hoping to be able to cover the cost of an animal and a reptile visit later this term
- The office is currently updating and streamlining our information. Each of you have been given a form to fill out regarding your session information, and we would really appreciate it if you could complete it and return to me in nursery ASAP. Thank you 😊

Eight new children have joined Little Ducklings this week, so we have been busy getting to know them all. We realised that we are now the big children in nursery, so we have been teaching the new children about empathy, sharing, turn taking, nursery rules etc. and we have been showing them what independent and responsible Ducklings we have all become! We are so proud of how welcoming the children have been and how they helped to settle the newbies in!

Next week's topic: Re-cycling

We will be learning what 're-cycling' means. We will discover what will happen to the world if we don't re-cycle and re-use things. We will decide what objects can be re-cycled and think about what they could be made in to. We will sort objects into ones that can be re-cycled and those that can't.

Having concentrated on distinguishing sounds and rhyme last term, we are now moving on to learning individual letters and sounds. Next week's letter/sound is Ss

Things to do at home...

At home decide with your child what can be re-cycled or re-used and what can't be. Help them to sort packaging into Plastics, paper and cardboard.

Re-enforce why it's important not to waste food

Practise counting: look in your kitchen cupboard, count how many metal cans, cardboard boxes, glass jars and bottles are in there
